recognize!

Consumer goods procurement, also known as Self-Service Procurement, is the genesis of Supplier Relationship Management. However, Self-Service Procurement has long outgrown its consumer status. In many companies, SRM solutions now determine the workflow of all indirect goods, including investments. Accordingly, the demands placed on SRM have risen in the past few years.

As a result of extensive approval guidelines, SRM is now an integral part of the company and is intended to represent the internal purchasing portal for all employees.

As a result, the buyers obtain a strategic tool for controlling and monitoring employee requirements. Consequently, reduced material costs, process costs, and process lead times are all attainable, and have already been achieved in many companies.

solve!

apsolut GmbH supports its customers from conceptual design through to implementation and enhancement of your procurement processes for indirect goods. We rely on tried-and-tested SAP products that can be smoothly integrated into your ERP systems.

Depending on your requirements, apsolut relies not only on SAP SRM, but on other approaches in the catalog field, which is at the heart of a Self-Service Procurement solution. apsolut's consultants have many years of experience in catalog management and are happy to support you in choosing and implementing your solution.

apsolut has highly experienced SAP SRM developers who recognize your specific processes, develop modification-free solutions, and provide the technical implementation for you.

Thanks to our many years of experience in the field of SRM, we are accustomed to developing solutions and processes beyond system boundaries.

As a result of different customer requirements, we have developed a range of centrally maintained solution modules over the past few years, which we can implement for our customers without the need for modification.

The following are just a few sample solutions from our portfolio:

- Optimized management of stock materials
- A comprehensive workflow framework for simple mapping of individual requirements
- A solution for approving ERP PReq's in the SRM system
- Form-based entry of articles and user-defined texts
- Purchase order change processes, also via the SRM shopping cart
- Purchasing analyses in SAP SRM without using SAP Business Warehouse lasting!

Our name is synonymous with identifying and effectively implementing potentials, achieving lasting results, and providing competent advice beyond project implementation.

Ask our satisfied customers about us. We would be happy to arrange a meeting for you. Approximately 80 well-known companies have placed their trust in apsolut's high level of professional and IT competence.
